INTERNATIONAL RELEASE OF WORLD CHINA TOUR ALBUM

THE FRONT PORCH COUNTRY BAND ANNOUNCES UPCOMING RELEASE OF "LIMITED EDITION" WORLD CHINA TOUR ALBUM

12 April 2006
- IMMEDIATE RELEASE -

LEWISBURG, PA– During their first international tour of China, The Front Porch Country Band amazed Chinese audiences throughout China's largest cities, including Beijing, Shanghai, Ning bo and Wuhan.

During their first concert tour in China, The Front Porch Country Band amazed audiences with original music from their latest release, "Somebody Tonight," as well as songs trilogy album, "America Standing Tall – The American Trilogy," released one week after September 11 Chinese television, radio, and print media will cover the tour. "I was blown away when I saw members of the audience singing along," said lead singer Johnny Jolin. "It's hard to believe people know your songs on the other side of the world."

The members of The Front Porch Country Band were inspired by the culture of China - the people, breathtaking landscapes and historic culture, and put this inspiration into words and music.

On the second anniversary of their first world concert tour in China, The Front Porch Country Band is expected to release the "limited edition" World China Tour album to fans worldwide.

The Front Porch Country Band's first world China tour, was funded by the official China Performing Arts Agency and organized by the US-China Foundation (USCF) the same organization that coordinated former President Bush's recent involvement in the environmental summit in Beijing.

"The main purpose of the USCF is promoting Sino-US culture exchange," said USCF Supervisor of Art and Culture Exchange Jiali Zhu. "We introduce Chinese culture to the U.S. and U.S. culture to China. Chinese people like it and are familiar with it."
